

NPO Kinki Bio-industry Development Organization

Organization Overview

July 2025

Foundation

The Kinki Bio-industry Development Organization (KBDO) was established in March 1985 by Dr. Yuichi Yamamura, President of Osaka University, and others in industry and government to promote bio-industry in the Kansai region more effectively by bringing industry, academia, and government together.

Dr. Yuichi Yamamura

Kansai (Kinki) Region

Since a long time, the Kansai region has been enriching the lives of people around the world by combining the power of its people with a spirit of challenge and by pioneering new industrial fields.

Kansai is home to many of the nation's top universities. It has a remarkable history of industrial development and of achievements of people and companies with advanced knowledge and technology, making it a world-class biocluster.

Chairman
Dr. Tsuneaki Sakata

I am Tsuneaki Sakata, Chairman of the NPO Kinki Bio-industry Development Organization. For more than 20 years, I have been involved in industry-government-academia collaboration projects as a director and vice-chairman of this organization, and I have been involved in communication with overseas bio-clusters. In recent years, I have served as President of the All Japan BioCommunity Liaison Committee. Biocommunity Kansai(BioCK), established in July 2021, has become increasingly prominent as a global biocommunity accredited by the cabinet office and has begun activities toward forming a bioeconomy in the Kansai region. Since its establishment in 1985, KBDO has formed important networks with industry, government, and academia. We wish to take over this valuable asset and devote ourselves to the further development of the bio-industry. We look forward to your continued support and guidance.
